

South East Research Farm, Redvers, SK, Canada, seeks new research partners

South East Research Farm is a producer owned and directed organization that operates as a non-profit. We are looking for more small-plot breeding trials with funding in place to host at Redvers, SK for the 2018 season. We have appropriate equipment for doing small plot variety evaluation trials. We also have larger equipment for agronomic trials such as seeding rate or fertility trials. We are particularly interested in doing mixed grain intercropping trials and have considerable experience with these. If you have trial funding and are looking for a quality location for trials, please contact lshaw.serf@gmail.com. There may also be opportunities at other research farms in Saskatchewan. We can give references for the quality of our work.

-Lana Shaw, PAg, MSc, February, 2018.