

New Associate Director at Oat Global: Will Zorrilla

The Stakman-Borlaug Center (SBC) is pleased to welcome Will Zorrilla as the Associate Director of Oat Global. As the Associate Director of Oat Global, Will interfaces with SBC leadership and staff and the Oat Global Board of Directors to facilitate dialogue and interact within the Oat Global community, secure external funding to support research and extension in oats, manage a growing portfolio of Oat Global research and extension priorities, and perform a variety of tasks to grow and support the organization. Will has an M.B.A. from Kansas State University and he brings nearly a decade of experience working in the agriculture and food space aligning pre-competitive research with the bottom line of industry to Oat Global.
